

THE 2008 RINA/MONACO YACHT SHOW GREEN STAR TROPHY for respecting environmental norms in shipbuilding goes to SEA FORCE ONE built by AMY

Press release, Monaco, 8 October 2008

The motor yacht Sea Force One was awarded the 2008 Green Star sustainable development trophy at the 18th Monaco Yacht Show.

RINA and the Monaco Yacht Show singled out Sea Force One as the most ecological yacht at the 18th edition of the MYS.

H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco reiterated his encouragements for such initiatives in preserving the environment then presented the trophy to the yacht's owner in the presence of Luc Pettavino, Administrator Delegate of the MYS, and Ugo Salerno, Administrator Delegate of RINA S.p.A.

Sea Force One, delivered in 2008, is the first 54-metre motor yacht built by the Italian shipyard AMY founded in 2005 by the partnership between the Admiral shipyards and Mariotti (AMY: Admiral Mariotti Yacht). The yacht was built in accordance with strict environmental norms that include the installation of systems for preventing pollution by waste waters and oils, and the treatment of paintwork.

For the second year in succession the Italian company RINA S.p.A. and the Monaco Yacht Show's organisers teamed up to recompense the show's most ecological yacht.

This collaboration highlights the MYS's strong commitment to preserving the environment; since 2005 the show has been certified Carbon Neutral® thanks to its contribution to international ecological projects.

*From left to right around H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco: Luc Pettavino, Managing Director of the Monaco Yacht Show, the owner of Sea Force One and Ugo Salerno, Administrator Delegate of RINA S.p.A.*